Principal's Corner

Happy New Year,

As 2021 begins, I think it's a perfect time to recommit to the goals we have established for our students and school community. First, I can't say enough about how wonderfully our students have adapted to working remotely and attending school on a bi-weekly basis. In order to maintain this momentum, it is important that students participate fully in all educational activities. Remote students should log in daily and attend not only their core classes, but gym, music, and art, as well as EL and intervention programs. Scarlet and Gray students should be logging on at 3:15 every Tuesday and Thursday on their week at home. Various grades also have the opportunity to work with Title 1 teachers. When our students engage in ALL of these academic opportunities consistently then we all Win.

With Covid we haven't been able to gather in-person as a school family, so I encourage everyone to stay connected by attending our virtual PTA meetings and parent conferences which will both be coming up in February. For together we prepare a bright future for our most precious jewel, our children.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Harkness, Principal

A Time to Dream

During the month of January, we take time to recognize Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. for all that he has contributed to us as individuals and the world as a global community. From a very young age, Dr. King was relentless in his pursuit of justice and equality. He believed the words of our constitution which states that all men are created equal.

However, Dr. King did more than just believe it, he lived it. He lived it through his speeches, preaching, marching, and boycotts. He shared with the world his vision of a great nation.

Although, he wasn't able to witness his vision come to complete fruition. He inspired us all to dream and make the world a better place. What's your DREAM?
